Daily Positives

Inspiring Greatness in the Next Generation

By: Edward P. Fiszler, Ed.D.

These daily passages speak straight to the heart of everyone in your family, classroom, or school.

Benefit from the wisdom and insight of prominent figures of yesterday and today, from Thomas Edison to Tiger Woods - people who have overcome great obstacles to achieve success.

A collection of powerful quotes and passages that place readers in a mindset of positive action. Elementary school principal Edward P. Fiszler, Ed.D. successfully used these passages over the sound system at his schools to remind students and teachers of the rewards which are directly connected to tenacity and positive thinking. This book is ideal for educators, parents, and children.

The secret to doing the amazing and the incredible is having a fantastic dream about the future...Think about what you have to do to make it happen...By creating an amazing future in your mind and working towards it, your dreams can come true.

~ Inspired by Bob Proctor

Progress can be measured through your ability to handle more and more difficult problems. Each success enhances your skills and puts you in a position to take on more complex problems.

~ Inspired by Henry Kissinger

When you do good things you make the world a better place because other people watch and learn from what you do. Others notice the good things you do and are inspired to follow your good example.

Edward P. Fiszler, Ed.D., is founding principal of NEW Academy Canoga Park in Los Angeles, California and teaches graduate level courses in education at National University and California State University, Northridge. His extensive background in education has given him a keen familiarity with the power of written and spoken motivational messages. Dr. Fiszler found that brief, key thoughts can encapsulate the deepest yearnings of the heart as well as the highest aspirations of students and adults alike.
